JOHN MARSHALL BANK HIRES ANDY PEDEN

Former Cardinal Bank commercial real estate market executive fits nicely into Bank's growth initiative

[Reston, VA] [May 31, 2018] – Today, John Marshall Bank announced the addition of Andy Peden to its team of banking leaders. Peden's in-depth executive commercial real estate experience positions him well for his new role at John Marshall Bank as Executive Vice President / Chief Lending Officer. Peden has over 18 years of banking experience, all but one year with Cardinal Bank.

"John Marshall Bank's strength is in its people, and having Andy join our team of great bankers makes us an even stronger bank," said John R. Maxwell, Executive Chairman of the Board. "The fact that John Marshall Bank continues to attract top talent like Andy is a testament to the exemplary reputation our Bank enjoys, and the momentum we have as we increase market share in a very competitive banking environment."

"John Marshall Bank offers a way of banking I believe in – close relationships with clients, easy local access to the Bank's decision makers, top-notch banking executives and a commitment to the community," said Peden. "I am delighted to be joining the highly-talented commercial lending team of John Marshall Bank. My passion is to structure loans to meet the unique needs of individual customers. Although my background has primarily focused on commercial real estate lending, I'm looking forward to working with the talented lending team already in place at John Marshall Bank, and the diverse portfolio of loans they represent," Peden added.

Peden received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Richmond - Robins School of Business. He is very involved in the community, having served for 15 years on the steering committee of a fundraising event for the Inova Kellar Center. Peden also is engaged with the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

The ability to attract top executive talent like Andy Peden is a leading factor in John Marshall Bank's success and its commitment to serving businesses and consumers in the Washington, DC metropolitan area. The company has banking centers in Reston, Alexandria, Arlington, Leesburg, Rockville, Washington, D.C., and a seventh Tysons Corner branch scheduled to open late summer 2018. The Bank is headquartered in Reston.

John Marshall Bank first opened to the public in Falls Church, Virginia in May 2006. Since that time, the bank has become one of the areas most respected, fastest growing and well-capitalized banks.
